

Reading remains one of life's great pleasures and an important means of broadening our horizons of knowledge and experience. This list includes books of diverse cultural perspectives for readers with varying interests and abilities. Enjoy your reading discoveries. All students must read FOUR books, one of which is designated. Three other choices from the list are left to you to make when and as you wish.

You may read the books in any order and at any time; however, we recommend you choose and enjoy one book in June, choose and enjoy a second and third in July, and then complete the required reading for your grade level or senior elective in August. You must bring the required book with you to campus at the start of the fall term.

Electronic texts are permissible. If, for any reason, you cannot obtain the required book online or from your local bookstore or library, please call Deerfield's Campus Store (Hitchcock House) at 413-774-1513 to arrange a shipment. You can also email caustin@deerfield.edu. He will help you resolve the difficulty.

June

Abdurraqib, Hanif. They Can't Kill Us Until They Kill Us The music critic and poet explores issues of personal and collective identity, all through the lens of music.

Ashbery, John. Selected Poems. The Heritage Award-winning Deerfield graduate's selection of his own best poems.

Beams, Clare. The Illness Lesson In 19th-century New England, a new school for girls has sinister effects on its students.

Bradley, David. The Chaneyville Incident An African American historian learns about his father and himself in uncovering the mystery of a shocking incident.

Edugyan, Esi. Washington Black Science and a hot-air balloon carry a young slave from Barbados to the realm of discovery.

Erdrich, Louise. The Plague of Doves An act by vigilantes haunts a family and tribe for years on an Ojibwe reservation.

Fitzgerald, F. Scott. This Side of Paradise We follow Amory Blaine through prep school, Princeton, love, and loss, and leave him peering into adulthood and trying to figure out what he believes.

Graham, Jorie. From the New World These poems contend with consciousness, memory, imperialism, and art.

Greer, Andrew Sean. Less A struggling novelist attends an array of literary events, all to avoid his ex-boyfriend's wedding.

Hass, Robert. The Apple Trees at Olema: New and Selected Poems Hass focuses this selection on the Northern California landscape and on human experience.

Ko, Lisa. The Leavers An undocumented Chinese immigrant goes missing, leaving her 11-year-old son behind. Discover the story from both perspectives.

Lalami, Laila. The Moor's Account Might there be other perspectives on the exploration and exploitation of New World? This imagined memoir of the first black explorer, a once-enslaved Moor, in North America offers a new possibility.

Maclean, Norman. A River Runs Through It and Collected Stories Maclean tells the story of his family and fly-fishing, of bar fights and bait fishermen, of a Montana "with the dew still on it."

Malcolm X. The Autobiography of Malcolm X Follows the turbulent life of this famous man, from his rough youth through prison and conversion to Islam and into his leadership period.

McPhee, John. Levels of the Game Arthur Ashe struggles to overcome prejudice against black tennis players.

Otsuka, Julie. The Buddha in the Attic Japanese "picture brides" struggle to adapt in an unwelcoming America.

Poe, Edgar Allan. Selected Stories Poe penetrates his haunted and obsessed characters' secrets.

Powers, Richard. The Overstory Interlocking stories over a 100-year span reveal the power of trees and the human bonds with them.

Rotner Sakamoto, Pamela. Midnight in Broad Daylight Follow the members of a Japanese American family caught on two sides of the Pacific during WWII as they struggle to make sense of duty, honor, and patriotism.

Sharma, Akhil. Family Life Grief, dislocation, and discrimination threaten immigrants in Queens, but a young man's resilience helps to restore the family.

July

- Cole, K.C. The Universe and The Teacup: The Mathematics of Truth and Beauty Explore links between mathematics and a variety of social, political, and scientific issues. (Recommended for FST)
- Egan, Timothy. Short Nights of the Shadow Catcher Explore the life and photographic work of Edward S. Curtis, who preserved Native American culture on film.
- Ferrara, America. American Like Me: Reflections on Life Between Cultures Prominent citizens, including actors, politicians, and more, discuss growing up in America as immigrants or children of immigrants.
- Ginsberg, Allen. Howl and Other Poems Meet the Beat poet who helped define a movement.
- Grann, David. Killers of the Flower Moon Who was killing Osage Indians and drilling oil wells on their land?
- Haigh, Jennifer. Heat and Light A small Pennsylvania town wrestles with the various costs of fracking for natural gas.
- Horwitz, Tony. Spying on the South Travel the modern American South with an observer following a route another writer took and described in dispatches 150 years earlier.
- Kolbert, Elizabeth. Field Notes from a Catastrophe Reading these dispatches may alter your sense of climate change.
- Orange, Tommy. There There A Pow Wow in Oakland promises to bring back tribal memories and complicated choices.
- Plath, Sylvia. The Bell Jar After graduating from college, Esther Greenwood works in New York as an editor. As her life becomes more complex, her grasp on reality diminishes.
- Potok, Chaim. My Name is Asher Lev A Jewish artist struggles with the demands of faith and art.
- Rankine, Claudia. Citizen Using the lyric essay form, Rankine engages with contemporary American racial politics from Trayvon Martin to Michael Brown.
- Reid, Kiley. Such a Fun Age Race and class clash in this cautionary tale about a babysitter's place in an affluent family's circle.
- Smith, Clint. How the Word Is Passed. The stories of slavery's legacy unfold all around the contemporary landscape
- Smith, Tracy K. Life on Mars A poetry collection that explores life, loss, interplanetary travel, and pop culture, all whilst paying homage to Smith's father, one of the engineers who worked on the Hubble Space Telescope, and David Bowie.
- Steinbeck, John. The Grapes of Wrath Follow the Joad family from the Oklahoma Dust Bowl to California—the paradise that supposedly would end their problems.
- Vonnegut, Kurt. Slaughterhouse-Five Journey through time in telegraphic, schizophrenic style with Billy Pilgrim, who can never escape the horrors of the Dresden firebombing.
- Ward, Jesmyn. Sing, Unburied, Sing This family road trip through a ravaged southern landscape will haunt you.
- Washington, Bryan. Memorial Mike and Benson's relationship is tested when Mike's mother comes to visit, only for her to be left with Benson when Mike has to fly to Osaka to take care of his estranged father.
- Watson, Bruce. Freedom Summer White and black college students risk their lives to advance civil rights in Mississippi.
- Whitehead, Colson. The Nickel Boys In the 1960s during Jim Crow, Nickel Academy is the kind of institution that purports to rebrand bad boys into good young men, but what happens inside does not match the public image.
- Wilkerson, Isabel. Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents Learn about the ways in which the caste system has shaped America, resulting in a complex hierarchy that continues today.

August

English 500 American Literature Courses
English 500 American Studies

Hansberry, Lorraine. A Raisin in the Sun
Morrison, Toni. A Mercy

